FALL RESOLUTION TO BE REPORTED SHORTLY

Severance of Relations With Sister Republic May be Soon Authorized.

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The consideration of the Mexican situation today by the senate foreign relations committee centered around a dispute as to President Wilson's knowledge of the situation. Senator Fall, author of the resolution providing for severance of diplomatic relations with Mexico, declared that the President is unadvised of the situation and that it would be useless to pass the resolution unless he was prepared to act upon it.

Senator Hitchcock, Democratic leader, declared the President is advised of the Mexican situation.
After a sharp wrangle, the committee called upon Secretary Langing to appear this afternoon to testify as to the President's knowledge of the situation.

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—A show down in the Mexican crisis is expected without delay. The two resolutions introduced in the senate by Senators Fall and Ashurst, it is believed, will have the effect of bringing matters rapidly to a head. Senator Fall said he expects the resolution demanding the withdrawal by the U. S. of its recognition of Carranza and the severance of diplomatic relations with Mexico to be reported back to the senate today for immediate action.

ANOTHER OUTRAGE REPORTED
(International News Service.)
CALEXICO, Cal., Dec. 4.—The state department was informed today by American Consul Boyle, of Mexico, of the third outrage against an American citizen in that place within the past two weeks, in connection with the arrest and fearful beating delivered by W. K. Milton, former American soldier, by a Mexican police officer. Milton, 24, is in a serious condition. His removal to San Francisco where his injuries can be given closer care is expected as soon as his condition warrants moving him. His jaw is broken, his hand shattered and his head and neck fearfully cut and frightfully bruised. The Mexican police officer who beat Milton is said to be in jail, while the Mexican authorities are conducting an exhaustive investigation.

SUPREME COUNCIL DECIDES TO SEND GERMANS SHARP NOTE

Refusal of Huns to Sign Treaty Has Brought on a Crisis.

(International News Service.)
PARIS, Dec. 4.—The supreme council today decided to send a sharp note to Germany on the reported decision of the German government not to sign the treaty ratification protocol. The note may go forward tomorrow.
At the same time the allies will send their reply to the German note pretexting against further reparations for the sinking of the German fleet at Scapa Flow.

BRITAIN ANXIOUS TO TRY GERMANS

(International News Service.)
LONDON, Dec. 4.—The British government is anxious to proceed with the trials of German officers of state who are accused of responsibility for the war and crimes during the war with the least possible delay. Premier Lloyd George announced in the House of Commons today. The premier said that he hoped the peace treaty would be finally ratified before the end of this month.

ATTEMPT MADE TO ROB POINTER STORE

A daring attempt was made last night to rob the Pointer Produce company on Lee street when the glass of a display window was broken but an inside lock baffled the would-be burglar and no entrance was effected.
Mr. Pointer later found a glass enter inside the store, where it appeared to have been dropped. It is believed an effort was made to cut a hole in the glass big enough to allow the burglar to slip in, but that proving too slow, a rock was hurled through the glass. Passersby, it is thought, frightened the burglar away.

Wilson's Conference Tackling Problems

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—President Wilson's second industrial conference today is wrestling with the problem of "adjustment and arbitration." The conference has adopted a program for its work outlined by Herbert Hoover and will bend its efforts to the question of peaceable settlement of industrial disputes, collective bargaining, hours of labor and wages.

RANSOM IN RACE FOR TAX OFFICE

W. T. Ransom, prominent resident of the Somerville community, in an announcement addressed to the Democratic voters of Morgan county, today announced his candidacy for tax collector.
Mr. Ransom made the race several years ago and received a flattering vote. He is well known all over the county, enjoying a wide acquaintance in practically every precinct. It is predicted by his friends that he will make a strong race.

LEGION MEETING BE HELD TONIGHT

The Morgan County post of the American Legion will hold its regular meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the auditorium of the Decatur city hall when a number of questions of importance to the returned service men will come up.
Legion buttons, a limited supply of which have just been received from state headquarters, will be distributed tonight to members of the local post.

MEDICAL SOCIETY NAMES OFFICERS

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year at the regular meeting of the Morgan County Medical Society this morning:
Dr. Frank Emens, president.
Dr. J. Y. Hamit, vice president.
Dr. H. C. McRee, censor.
The new officers of the Society are prominent physicians of the county.
The meeting today was well attended and many questions relating to the profession were discussed.

MERCHANTS TO KEEP STORES OPEN UNTIL 6 O'CLOCK; CANDLES AND LAMPS BOUGHT

Modification of Fuel Restrictions
Meets With Approval
Here.

NEW RULING MADE ANENT DRUG STORES

By Using No Electric Lights or Fuel They Can Do Business
After Four.

Local merchants today were making a rush upon the sellers of candles and lamps, in preparation for the first late afternoon's business since the government ban on fuel consumption went into effect, Monday noon.

The government's latest advice, sent out by the regional committee, at Atlanta, is that stores may remain open here after 4 o'clock if no heat or light is used. Drug stores, which have been prohibited from selling any article except drugs after 4 o'clock, now will be allowed to sell all articles, provided no heat nor light, except candles or lamps, is used, it is stated.

A ruling received here this morning by wire and relating to drug stores stated that drug stores would be allowed to remain open, for the sale of drugs only, after 4 o'clock. The telegram is taken to mean, however, that should a drug store use either heat or light after 4, it is not permitted to sell anything but drugs. Should the druggist desire to use candles or lamps and no heat, he will be permitted to sell anything ordinarily carried in a drug store, according to the interpretation given here.

Grocery stores and meat markets still are permitted to keep open until 1 o'clock. All other retail establishments were expected to remain open also today, using candles or lamps for light.

Y. M. C. A. BOARD TO CONFER TONIGHT

The management of the E. R. Y.
M. C. A. announces the regular monthly meeting of the committee of management for tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The meeting will be held at the Association building. Mr. Nollau, the General Secretary, requests that there be a full attendance as matters of importance will be considered.

LOCAL SHRINERS WILL BE HOSTS AT BANQUET THURSDAY

Shriners of all North Alabama will be the guests of the Morgan County Shriners club here next Thursday night, it was announced today by the committee on arrangements, which is preparing for the banquet in accordance with instructions issued at a meeting of the local Shriners club Tuesday night.

The banquet will be served by the Eastern Star in the Masonic temple and a tempting menu is being planned by the order.

Shriners will be present from Hartsville, Cullman, Sheffield, Florence, Tusculum, Huntsville and other cities of this section. The event will be in the nature of a good fellowship meeting.

CARL ALLEN RENTS ADJOINING STORE

SECOND AVENUE MERCHANT SECURES ADDITIONAL FLOOR SPACE.

Carl Allen, now occupying 708 Second avenue with a full line of merchandise has rented the adjoining building to his present quarters and will occupy the double building by December 20. Old building will be devoted to men's wear, shoes, clothing and dry goods and the new store to millinery and ladies' ready-to-wear.

Paving Question to Come Up Friday

The paving question, it is expected, will again hold the center of the spotlight when the Albany council meets in postponed session Friday night.

Aldermen are of the opinion that the concluding preliminary steps should be completed now in order that actual work may be started as soon as the weather opens this spring.

Nelson is Told Stores May Open

Mayor Nelson conferred with U. S.
Marshall Henry Skeggs over the telephone this afternoon and was advised that merchants could keep their stores open after 4 o'clock provided they used no coal as fuel or electric lights, neither can they build up a big fire just before 4 o'clock.

(International News Service.)
INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 4.—A special session of the federal grand jury to probe the alleged activities of the coal operators in restricting coal production throughout the United States was called today by Judge A. B.
Anderson to meet next Monday.

The grand jury's investigation will include "everybody anywhere," it was asserted by District Attorney L. E. Sack.
The grand jury was called by Judge Anderson on information charging contempt of court, filed with the court yesterday by the government.

(International News Service.)
INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 4.—John L. Lewis, acting president; Wm.
Green, secretary, and three other officials of the United Mine Workers of America who are in Indiana, were to appear today at the office of the U. S. marshal and give bond of $10,000 each for their appearance in federal court next Tuesday, when they will answer charges of criminal contempt because of alleged bad faith in connection with the recall of the strike order.

Seventy-nine other defendants will be arrested in states where they may be and will be allowed to give bond to U. S. authorities there.

Besides the 84 who are defendants in the original injunction proceedings, 13 officials of the Clinton, Indiana, local union faced contempt charges for alleged distribution of strike benefits.

Serving of the capiases on the miner's officials today follows the filing late yesterday of information by the government charging bad faith in failure to put seals and signatures on the strike recall order. Sixteen different charges are made and it is alleged that John L. Lewis refused to communicate with locals explaining the strike rescinding notice was a good faith order.
Capiases were ordered issued immediately following the filing of information and bonds were fixed at $10,000 each.

Hearing of the contempt charges was set for 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning.

AMERICAN FEDERATION WILL BACK MINERS

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Organized labor and the law are today set for a war to the finish. The government's action in citing leaders of the United Mine Workers for contempt of court in Indiana has crystallized the determination of labor leaders to fight the present coal crisis out to a finish. Officials of the American Federation of Labor are preparing to offer every assistance to the mine worker's organization. Just as determined to fight to a final victory, is the department of justice, and attorney General Palmer has behind him the backing of the administration.

It is understood that similar action to that taken in Indiana may be expected in other places and that the operators will not escape if there is evidence that they are attempting to interfere with coal production.

The public sacrifice in the situation was being discussed today. Fuel Administrator Garfield was to return to Washington today to confer with Director General Hines of the railroad administration relative to further restrictions upon the use of coal. It is believed here that with-

DAVEY BILL SHOULD BE MADE CLEAR

Some of the friends of the Daily have called its attention to one paragraph of the Davey session bill that is perhaps capable of a double construction.

The paragraph reads: "Whoever, with the intent to levy war against the United States, or to cause the change, overthrow or destruction of the government or any of the laws or authority thereof, shall be guilty of sedition."

Organized labor has taken the position that this paragraph is ambiguous, and that the courts might hold that any person who attempted to change the laws of the land would incur the penalties of the bill. Should this construction be placed upon the measure, it would make even the law-makers themselves guilty of a criminal act. As the Daily read the bill the "change" referred to a change of government, such as the substitution of sovietism or monarchy for republicanism. However, every law should mean just exactly what it says, and the Davey bill should be so amended as to make any double construction impossible.

All right-minded men oppose any effort to overthrow the American government. None would oppose any legitimate act to change our laws so as to make them serve the greatest good of the greatest number.

SOUTH DAKOTA'S ACTION IS NOT SIGNIFICANT

The little state of South Dakota has taken the lead in nominating candidates for the presidency. Its republican proposal convention has nominated Gen. Leonard Wood for chief magistrate, while its democratic proposal convention has nominated Woodrow Wilson. The action of the two conventions is not significant, due to the fact that South Dakota is premature. So far, the candidates for chief magistrate, with the exception of Governor Lowden of Illinois and Senator Poindexter of Washington, both of whom are small fry, have kept their aspirations well within their own breasts. They do not consider it good politics to come out into the open this early in the season, and prefer to sit tight until they are forced out by the well stimulated clamor of their friends that they make the race. When the final show down comes, it is very improbable that either of the men nominated in South Dakota will be in the reckoning. President Wilson will not be a candidate for a third term, and Gen. Wood will receive only the Roosevelt vote, and that will be divided by Hiram Johnson of California.

A QUIXOTIC ATTEMPT TO RECTIFY WRONGS

The Hotel La Salle, at Chicago, has burst into the limelight as the leader in a movement to reduce the cost of living by a downward revision of prices. Taking the position that profiteering must be stopped and the spirit of "getting yours while getting is good" must be curbed, it has announced a material reduction in its rates.

The intentions of the hotel are the best in the world, and must be commended. At the same time, it is apparent at a glance that any single establishment that seeks to overcome national ills by its lone example is merely fighting windmills. A reform of this character to be effective must be more far-reaching. Press dispatches state that even competing hostilities are not affected by the magnanimity of the La Salle.

The fact is that the rapacity of the American public is largely responsible for the era of high prices. And so long as that is the case, it is useless for one little concern to jump in front of the great juggernaut of avarice that is moving relentlessly on. The little concern will be crushed while the huge and destructive machine will drive straight ahead, its momentum unchecked.

Government itself, far more powerful than the individual, has so far failed to solve the problems of today satisfactorily. And it may be taken for granted that the processes of adjustment that followed the world upheaval will be slow, if sure. The storm will lull only when its force is spent.

WONDERFUL DREAM COMING TRUE

The story in Saturday's Journal regarding the great loop of hydro-electric power transmission lines which will skirt Alabama after several months, was a good piece of industrial news. It was an indication of the faith of the Alabama Power company in the future of the state.

But that story represented something in addition. It meant a dream come true. It meant the realization, in the very near future, of the vision, of a Gadsden man. That man is Capt. W. P. Lay.

The development of the Coosa river has been an almost life long hobby with Captain Lay. He saw the need for opening the river when, as a youth, he went back and forth upon it. Even then he began dreaming of the day when ships would sail proudly from Gadsden to the sea, laden with the products of North Alabama's hills and vales.

Later, and with manhood, came the realization of the vast amount of Nature's power going to waste. He began to see that rivers were made for purposes other than flowing under bridges. He started to work to organize a company and to secure legislation for the purpose of developing the almost limitless supply of hydro-electric power in Alabama. True, that part of his dream dealing with navigation to the sea has not come true. Unfortunately, it will not for some years. But the rest of that vision, and a great vision it was, is soon to be realized.—Gadsden Journal.

VISCOUNT ASTOR IN TRIANGLE

The British parliament has refused to allow Viscount Astor, son of the American millionaire who went to England to spend his last days and some of his dollars, to continue to sit in the house of commons. On the death of his father he became a peer, and by acquiring a seat in the house of lords he forfeited his seat in the commons, and is forever debarred from taking any part in elections. Being a young man with red blood in him he does not want to sit with the old fogeys on the red upholstered benches. He wants to be with the commons, the men who rule, and to that end would be willing to relinquish his peerage.

Here he runs up against an insuperable obstacle. Following the old Roman custom the British people do not allow a person to resign when elected to a public office. In such case a heavy and recurring penalty is imposed. Just one little loophole is allowed for a member of the commons when his constituents want to get rid of him. He gets the government to appoint him steward of the Chiltern Hundreds. This being an office of emolument under the crown he automatically ceases to be a member of parliament. Next day he resigns his stewardship and is free.

No such provision has been made for peers. They have received their honors from the king, and only the king, or death can relieve them. Their sons may sit in the commons, but the moment a young man succeeds to a title he ceases to be a member of the lower house. He automatically becomes a member of the upper house.

If Viscount Astor will contain his soul in patience for a few years his wish may be granted by the abolition of heredity in the upper house and the substitution of a senate composed of representatives of the chambers of commerce, industries, institutions of learning, labor and other interests. Everything points in that direction.—Detroit Free Press.

LEWIS SURRENDERS

(International News Service.) INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 4.—Upon the surrender to the U. S. marshal here shortly before noon today of acting president John L. Lewis, secretary Wm. Green and other officials of the United Mine Workers, the government abandoned its watchful waiting policy in the mine strike and will throw the full weight of its power into the task of enforcing the court's injunction. Announcement of the government's aggressive policy was made by Gan Simms, special district attorney. Lewis, Green, Ellis Searls, editor of the Mine Workers Journal; Percy Potto, statistician for the union; Wm. Mitch, secretary, and Ed Stewart, president of the Indiana miner's organization, were the men who surrendered. They went to the federal building in a group to be served with capias and to present bonds of $10,000 for their appearance in court Tuesday.

Proceedings to remove 78 other defendants to the jurisdiction of the court here will be begun immediately, it was announced.

BURK FARM WILL BE DISPOSED OF

J. J. Burk has contracted with the Ragsdale Realty company to subdivide and sell his farm, known as the Moseley place, and containing 789 acres, about two miles west of Decatur, fronting on the Courtland pike. The farm is said to be one of the very best in this section, and Mr. Burk's reason for selling is that his automobile and traction business has grown to such an extent that he cannot devote his time to his farm.

The property will be sold at an early date, and Mr. Burk will also dispose of his livestock, consisting of horses, mules, cattle and hogs, together with farming implements and machinery.

African Prince Attends the Boston University

(International News Service.) BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Stephen Bal-four Mfofo, a prince of an African royal family, is represented among the student body at the college of liberal arts of Boston University. The prince's father is a farmer at Larteh, West Africa, on the Gold Coast and is engaged in raising cocoa.

"Most young men from the Gold Coast of Africa go to England for higher education," Mr. Mfofo said. "The schools at home are under the English and German system. I heard so much about America at home, so we came over here instead of going to England."

Mr. Mfofo has been in America five years, doing his college "prep" work and completing his plebe year of College at Wilberforce, Ohio. He will remain this year at the College of Liberal Arts of Boston University, where he is registered as a sophomore. Next year he will go to Boston University School of Medicine. Upon completing his medical course in 1924 Mr. Mfofo plans to return to the Gold Coast and practice medicine among his native people.

Two of his fellow countrymen are students at Harvard University.

Hope for Poets.

The world's literary circles are considerably wrought up at present over a Chinese poet who wrote his verses 3,000 years ago and who, therefore, is now a long time dead.

This should encourage all living poets. In order to be poets they must be poor and suffer the rebuffs of crude, heartless editors, but think of the happiness it must be to know that one will be remembered 3,000 years after one is dead.

Keeping friend Husband's Admiration

Has it ever occurred to you that there is a close relationship between admiration and laundry service?

Admiration springs not alone from charm of manner. It has its origin equally in physical grace; it is awakened in men by that quality in woman called daintiness—that quality which is a combination of complexion, of carriage, of trimness, of hands well kept. Friend Husband was attracted by them in the beginning—and he admires them yet.

But nothing is so ruinous to daintiness as the toil of washday; the bending over washboards and the coarsening of hands that comes from contact with heavy soap and wash water. More than all other household duties, the family washing is destructive of personal charm.

Yet this wastage of the daintiness that is yours is needless in this day and age. If you will but say the word we will do the washing for you—do it economically and as thoroughly as you would yourself.

Try us. Let us relieve you of the noisome labor of washday. Just telephone and we will have our driver call.

A SUCCESS SOCIALLY AND FINANCIALLY

Not since the advent of the Shriners, was there such a crowd to be taken care of by any one society. St. John's Guild did it last night. The old Guild House was alive with the music and laughter from one o'clock Wednesday, till ten that night. Christmas decorations and the chill of out doors, shining eyes of happiness, at duty well done, made a cheer everlasting, and such a delicious supper served with dispatch and good style. Everybody was happy—'nough said. St. John's Guild had well laid plans and went about the fulfillment with despatch. Co-operation was evident. A goodly sum was realized. Mrs. Hal B. Beard, president of the Guild, and her efficient corps of chairmen, Mrs. F. F. Tidwell, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Harbin Miller and Mrs. J. D. Jefferies were in charge of the supper. Mrs. Roy Horton and Mrs. L. A. Hobert were in charge of the Fancy work booth, Mrs. W. B. Edmundson was in charge of the Grocery booth. The merchants had surely been generous in their donations, the earnings of this booth helped greatly to swell the treasury. An old fashioned patchwork quilt was sold, Mrs. Maynor Hays in charge, and netted a nice sum. An applied comfort, made by Mrs. Roy Horton from scraps of the Aprons was another best seller, and those aprons were no surprise in the public eye, they have been flitting with house keepers some months. So great was the demand the guild had to make them behind closed doors.

COTACO LITERARY CLUB

The Cotaco Literary club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. C. H. Kyrd of Sherman street. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Moebes Mrs. J. D. Bush presided. The program subject was "Secession and the Civil War." Mrs. Ike Scheer, leader After the reading of the paper Misses Godbey and Anderson answered questions regarding health and its promotion, in which every club woman is interested, each young woman creating interest in her division of the survey. During the social hour refreshment, suggestive of the coming holidays was served—Plum Pudding and delicious whipped cream.

Y. P. M. S.

The Young Peoples' Missionary Society of the Central M. E. church met with Sadie Mae Speake Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock. The assembly was aroused to enthusiasm by the chorus, "Onward Christian Soldiers." Rev. W. P. McGlawn offered prayer. Willie Fiest Price, the leader for the afternoon, opened the program—Subject—"Christians Call to Service." She was assisted by Pauline Dunnavent, Mary Roxie Collier and Mabel Miller. During the social hour that followed refreshments of cocoa and wafers were served.

A pleasing program of music and readings was given. Those appearing were Katherine Chynn, Zana Lovin Pauline Dunnavent, Inez Thourbs, and Maxie Speake.

McCULLOUGH-SAFLEY

tion has been received here by either Mexican consul Garcia or F. A. Dow, American consular agent, of the reported capture of Francisco Villa, Mexican bandit leader, said to have been taken prisoner by several of his followers.

Americans reaching here today from the vicinity of Santa Rosalia, Mexico, where Villa is said to have been camping for several weeks, predict increased activity against the Carranza government, with Villa taking a prominent part. These Americans say Villa personally led his soldiers in a successful attack against Carranza forces near Santa Rosalia several days ago. It had previously been reported that the Villistas had been beaten by the Carranza forces.

STATE NEARS GOAL IN 'SEALS' DRIVE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 4. (Special)—The ten day campaign throughout the state of Alabama for the sale of Christmas Seals, which opened Dec. 1, and will continue through Dec. 10, is now in progress and indications from many sections of Alabama are that the state will easily reach the quota of $200,000, set by the National Tuberculosis Association.

An efficient county organization has been effected in all of the 67 counties of the state and work begun actively Monday in all of the various counties in the seal sale campaign.

That each county would make an excellent showing in the campaign in disposing of the Christmas seals and health bonds was indicated last week when two meetings were held in Birmingham and Montgomery, respectively, of chairman and other members of the various committees of the state, each county reporting much interest being shown in the progress of the drive.

The Birmingham meeting, held at the Tutwiler Hotel and composed of representatives of 26 counties of north Alabama was most enthusiastic. One of the principal features of this meeting was the reading of a telegram from Gov. Thomas E. Kilby, extending to the Red Cross Christmas Seals organization the good wishes of the state of Alabama. Governor Kilby's message is as follows:

"Please extend my appreciation and sincere thanks to representatives of the various counties at your conference for accepting this responsibility on behalf of the state of Alabama, and assure them of my deep sympathy in the movement."

"Thomas E. Kilby."

LONDON IS CRIZY OVER HER "JAZZES"

By EARLE C. REEVES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—When the idea that the late war, with its four-year ban on dancing, was actually over at last began to permeate Britain, sages and pessimists held up despairing hands and opined that the mania for dancing would soon wear away.

Nothing so intense could be expected to last. England, staid and sane as of yore, wouldn't be more than mildly bitten by the bug which Yankee officers, Y. M. C. A. misses and "cullahed" camp entertainers had brought to these shores.

But the late and unlamented war has been over more than a year and by all the reverberations from the West End, Britain's adoption of the Yankee dance craze, with its jazz and tango, clang and clamor hasn't really done more than get off to a slow and bungle some start yet.

"Watch it grow" and "where will it ever end" are the typed comments of those daily and weekly journals which build circulation among the housemaids and East Enders by chronicling each and every move in the zone of white lights and 3 a. m. homeward taxis.

Literally scores of new dancing clubs, "salons" and so-called private dancing parties have opened their doors at liberal prices in Oxford and Regent streets, in Piccadilly and Hanover Square.

From there comes the unmistakable sound of a bull turned loose in the pits and pans department of a hard ware store, and one knows that a perspiring drummer is reaching for more tinware than the musicians' union of five years ago ever dreamed of. He must rest, so the awesome call of a bereaved trombone takes up the theme.

Across the street hurry a couple. He has silk-wrapped pumps tucked under one arm. The girl who is tucked under the other is clad in a manner to tempt the pneumonia germs of London's water-logged atmosphere, but miraculously she escaped. Although the sale of "pumps" in West End shops has been a thing of astounding proportions, not all the men follow the rigid rule of years ago when a man without pumps simply didn't venture onto a ballroom floor.

Intermingled with the bare-backed silks and the white shirt fronts are officers in uniform, wearing heavy knee boots with soles half an inch thick. There are many casualties, and apologetic officers lead fair casualties to quiet corners and make their peace with peach melbas at $1.50 per.

The mecca of meccas is the West End, the white light section of London, but all the suburbs have their secondary attractions. Here the demand for places to dance has become such that the movie houses in some instances are being cleared of seats and converted into dance halls.

Christmas is almost here. Are you prepared? If not, you had better get busy. We have a splendid stock of Christmas presents, the kind every one appreciates. J. W. Thornton, 615 Second Ave., Albany, Ala.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF MORGAN COUNTY

Having decided to make the race for the office of Tax Collector of Morgan County, I take this means of making my announcement. Having been born and reared in this county and being a man of a family and all of my interests being identified with this county and the people of this county, I feel that I can consistently request your vote and influence at the coming Democratic primary election in my behalf.

My political career all of my life has been identified by my activities in behalf of the Democratic party, and for those things which I thought for the best interests of the people and of the party.

I made the race with six other men for this same office eight years ago, and when the result of the election was made known Mr. C. C. Robertson, the present incumbent was nominated, then later elected. My defeat was accepted with good grace, being at all times willing to submit to the wishes of the majority. Four years later Mr. Robertson announced for a second term, asking the people to give him the office in accordance with "Democratic Usage" to which I heartily concurred he was entitled and did not enter the race against him. Now, while Mr. Robertson is asking the people to endorse him for a third term, I am asking them to endorse me for the first term, having confidence that the people do not believe it is right for one man, or set of men to remain in office so long, when there are just as good and just as competent men asking for the same place.

I am making this race upon my merits and leave the decision of the issues to the people. It has been my ambition since quite a boy to hold this office.

I may not be able to see all the voters of the county, but I assure you, your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated by me, and should you see fit to nominate and elect me to this office, I shall discharge the duties of this office to the best of my ability.

W. T. RANSOM.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel, just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not squalor.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

Make this Christmas the happiest and merriest one your children have ever had. They have been looking forward to it for a long time—don't disappoint them.

SKY ONLY, LIMIT FOR NEWSPAPERMEN HERE IS ONE WHO BECAME A BISHOP

Rt. Rev. Charles Sumner Burch, for Thirteen Years an Editor, Now One of Joint Commission Directing Nation-Wide Campaign.

Out of the noise and tension of editorial rooms, newspapermen have gone to positions strangely contrasted to those they left.

Here is one who left the editorial desk to achieve a bishop's robes.

For 13 years he was Charles Sumner Burch, newspaper editor of Kansas City and Detroit. Today he is the Right Rev. Charles Sumner Burch, Episcopal Bishop of New York.

Formerly his words went from the typewriter to the composing room and so to the columns of the dailies, to help mould public opinion. Now they go out to the members of the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New York, and beyond, helping to inspire the Church to meet the responsibilities which the day of reconstruction has laid upon it.

For when the supreme body of the Church, the triennial general convention, met recently in Detroit—the city where the Bishop of New York once turned out "copy" for the press—it appointed him to the Joint Commission which, with the authority of the entire Church behind it, is directing the $42,000,000 Episcopal Nation-Wide Campaign by which the Church plans to expand its work in every field and play its full part in building a new order out of the present chaos.

Bishop Burch saw—perhaps with the old "news sense"—the importance of the Nation-Wide Campaign from the first.

"Providence," said he, in his first pastoral address to the Diocese of New York, following his elevation to the bishopric, "has furnished us, at the beginning of our new mutual relationship, with a task worthy of our highest powers."

The Nation-Wide Campaign is intended to reach and touch the life and purpose of every man, woman and child connected directly or remotely with the Church's existence. If the Church of Christ is to hold fast to and conserve the great spiritual values won through the heroic sacrifices willingly offered by our brave men and boys in the world's most tragic war, it must awaken in each man a keen sense of his individual responsibility for conserving these values.

AMUSEMENTS

BIG RACING PLAY MASONIC THEATRE TODAY

"Checkers, the famous racing melodrama has been made into a motion picture by William Fox and will be seen at the Masonic theatre today. The picture, directed by Richard Stanton, is a mammoth spectacle with most realistic scenes.

Checkers is the main character in the play. He is a reformed race-track tout who falls in love with a Southern beauty and gets into the most thrilling adventures. How the boss Remorse wins the big stakes, how Checkers risks his life many times, and how he finally overcomes all obstacles, is told, it is said, with an elaboration of detail which makes "Checkers" one of the most absorbing photoplays presented this season.

Art Miss Cobb, superintendent of Bedford Reformatory for Women in New York. She says the only successful method with young ladies in her institution is handcuffing them to cell bars, putting them on a bread diet and holding their heads in cold water until they lose their volubility, which is extreme. The authorities perhaps will pass on Miss Cobb's views.

Mrs. Hoffman, matron of the reformatory, contributes the interesting information that some young ladies actually "enjoy the soothing effects of the handcuffs."

This sounds, but is not, incredible. Many slaves hated Lincoln when he talked about setting them free. And this country hears now from many clinging vine ladies, anti-suffragists, bemoaning the loss of their political handicuffs. Handcuffs really are soothing. All history proves it, luckily for the world. That explains why so many men trot along peacefully and contented through life, handcuffed to a little job and a little salary, that saves them the trouble of thinking.

The fondness of the many for the handcuffs of routine and habit provides opportunity for the few. Plenty of room at the top where handcuffs are not worn.

TODAY

Another Little Cloud.
A Dead Undertaker.
"100 Per Cent Profitteering."
Ladies Are Difficult.

(By Arthur Brisbane.)

A cloud hangs over the Rio Grande, a possibility of war between Mexico and the United States—very faint, it does not disturb Carranza.

Mexico's oil supply is "nationalized," a pleasant word borrowed from Russia, meaning that Mexico decides to confiscate property of Americans and other foreigners.

Her bandits kidnap the American consul, Jenkins, then Carranza puts him in jail, saying the kidnapping was a put up job. There won't be any war, probably, for, as Northcliffe says, this is a patient country.

This headline you read rarely: "Undertaker Commits Suicide." Arthur Kaiser in his name, Connecticut his state. The line holds you. You know that girls in candy stores soon get tired of candy and cooks have poor appetites—they see too much food.

An undertaker, you would say, must see enough of death, without rushing into it. But you never can tell what a human being will do.

Victor Berger, running for Congress, after being put out, reminds you of Tim Healy, the Irishman, put off the floor by the Speaker and running up to the Prince of Wales' place in the gallery to continue insulting Colonel Sanderson, of whom he said, "The honorable and gallant gentleman is a witful and cowardly liar."

Berger is out with a platform, nearly all of its planks "against" something. This shows intelligence, for men vote AGAINST things more often than FOR them. Many not Socialists will see merit in these two lines of the platform:

"Against 100 per cent profiteering masquerading as 100 per cent Americanism."

Sad as it may sound, it seems quite probable that Berger will be elected, although Republicans and Democrats have united against him.

His constituents in Wisconsin apparently think that they, not members of Congress living in other States, should select their representative. They are like the Englishmen that insisted on re-electing Bradlaugh, condemned because he, foolishly, denied the existence of God, and would not take the prescribed oath.

The eight-hour day as "a world principle" is urged at the Washington International Labor Conference. It is a good principle, but in parts of the world—China, for instance—lack of machinery makes it impossible for populations to keep alive on an eight-hour working basis.

In a country where they drill wells two and three thousand feet deep, the hammering power being a stone in a man's hand, that man can't earn a living in eight hours. But hands plus machinery can do it, and will. Develop and distribute machinery, good pay, good books, with leisure to read them, and you'll solve social problems—in a few centuries.

A witty person, disapproving eight hours a day and high wages, says: "The great working class will soon be spending eight hours in sleep, eight hours at work, eight hours spending what they earn."

Would that be worse than the small class now existing and devoting the entire twenty-four hours to spending what somebody else earned?

Fair woman when she cuts loose is difficult. Ask the Mexican strikers, whose women, the other day, first took their jobs, then drove them back to work. Ask the ghost of Dionysius, hunted and torn to pieces by the Bacchae, a group of ladies that included his own mother. Ask Southern politicians, who say, "We can control the votes of black men, but heaven save us if the black women
